1. Executive Summary

- Indian youth are a vast human resource and in view of their large numbers the question of tapping their enormous potential has assumed great importance. In this backdrop the growing need for designing, implementing and monitoring youth programmes and promoting capacity development among the youth necessitated the establishment of Rajiv Gandhi National Institute of Youth Development (RGNIYD) at Sriperumbudur by the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, Government of India in 1993.
- The RGNIYD was registered under Societies registration Act, XXVII of 1975, S.No. 67 of 1993. The institute functions as a think-tank of the Ministry and apex organization of youth related activities in the country.
- It was also a tribute to Rajiv Gandhi whose vision for the country and agenda for youth are worth emulating. The RGNIYD since its inception has been instrumental in invigorating youth work by promoting spirit of volunteerism among youth and enhancing their potential through effective training.
- With state-of-the-art infrastructure and well trained personnel, the institute serves as a centre for advanced study and applied research in the area of youth and a forum to discuss and debate youth concerns. The institute has five divisions, three cells and five schools that organize training programmes, extension activities and offer post graduate programmes.
- The Institute offers
 - i. Diagnostic and Impact Assessment Studies
 - ii. Action Research and Extension services
 - iii. Monitoring and Evaluation Studies
 - iv. Client-based and Demand-driven Training Programmes
 - v. Professional Programmes in Youth Work
 - vi. Inter-disciplinary Research Programmes specializing in Youth Work
 - vii. Exchange Programmes
 - viii. Study and Exposure Visits

Mandate

- a) To function as a resource agency and think-tank for youth programmes, policies and implementation strategies.
 - b) To develop multi-faceted programmes for youth keeping in view social harmony and national unity as ultimate objectives.
 - c) To grow and develop as a facilitator and nodal agency for youth training, youth work and youth development in the country for rural as well as urban youth.
 - d) To function as an institute of advance study in the field of youth and to develop such professional excellence as may be required for the purpose.
 - e) To develop its programmes aimed at inculcating a sense of national pride, awareness of national goals and internalisation of national values among the youth workers.
 - f) To develop new ideas and innovative programmes for motivating and creating a committed cadre of youth workers and functionaries.
 - g) To promote and conduct action and user based applied research and evaluation studies in youth development and through this provide necessary thrust to youth programmes on systematic and scientific lines.
 - h) To function as centre for information publication and documentation pertaining to youth development.
 - i) To provide institutional training for the personnel working in the field of youth.
 - j) To provide appropriate youth extension projects and services which can function as laboratory on youth work.
 - k) To link its programmes and functions to the promotion of National Youth Policy.
- The RGNIYD in accordance with its mandate trains the youth through an array of well designed educational endeavours, training programmes, extension activities and action research projects. It seeks to enhance the understanding of the youth about social situation and equip them with necessary skills and competencies to negotiate challenges and life situations.
 - The RGNIYD collaborates with the NSS and NYKS organisations in organising training programmes as well as seminars, workshops and conferences. Over the years the institute has been able to forge effective and enduring alliance with universities, NGOs, youth organisations and professional bodies as a result of which an extensive network in the area of youth development has been evolved.
 - The institute has prepared 13 comprehensive manuals on varied themes on the basis of the training programmes were conducted. The consultation meets regarding the preparation of the manuals were attended by experts from relevant fields.

- The training programmes veer round specific themes and objectives with special focus on learner centred approach. Adequate care is taken to ensure that all the endeavours of the RGNIYD are youth-centred. In its long and fruitful association with youth work and training, the institute has been able to create numerous partners and a vibrant pool of training personnel whose professional approach, skills and competencies are comparable with the best in the field.
- The research projects undertaken by the institute have yielded rich corpus of knowledge informed by critical analysis of youth issues. The year 2008 can be rightly described as watershed in the history of the RGNIYD as it started offering five postgraduate programmes. By July 2010 students of the first batch had graduated from the institute and are making their presence felt in many sectors, among which the development sector is very conspicuous.
- The Adolescent Health and Development Project (AHDP) supported by the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) has emerged as a vital link between the RGNIYD and the adolescent world. The project through its innovative and inclusive programmes has reached youth all over the country.
- The Community Radio Station called "Ilanthalir", meaning tender leaves in Tamil, is a path breaking experiment which enables thousands of adolescents to participate in the broadcasts and experience a profound feeling of empowerment.

The RGNIYD has been able to reach a vast multitude of adolescents through community radio.

- The RGNIYD organized a 12 day NSS mega summer camp in June 2009. Four hundred students from ten states participated in the camp. The camp was aimed at promoting volunteerism and healthy citizenship.
- In a pioneering effort the RGNIYD in collaboration with the M.S.Swaminathan Research Foundation and SRM Deemed University, Chennai organized Indian Youth Science Congress. The Congress was aimed at developing spirit of scientific inquiry and rationalism in the student community. The event was attended by many young scientists and young people.
- In view of the need for skill development among the less educated rural youth the RGNIYD in consultation with the National Council for Vocational Training (NCVT) launched its flagship project titled 'Traditional Employability Skill Certification' to enhance the employability of the youth. A total of 3568 youth from four states were trained under this programme.
- The institute had adopted Kannanthnagal village, Kanchipuram district as part of its extension activities. The population of the village is around 600 among which 70 are youth. The institute took up the task of identifying youth needs and issues at the village. It had also organized a vocational training programme for 40 adolescents.
- At the request of the Department of Social Defence, Government of Tamil Nadu, the RGNIYD trained 150 adolescents of special homes and observation homes in mushroom cultivation, artificial flower and bouquet making.
- In addition to imparting training and offering postgraduate courses the RGNIYD has been consistently organizing academic exercises like seminars, conferences and workshops on many contemporary issues at national and international levels. The themes of these events include gender, life skills, conflict resolution, secularism, media, youth empowerment, social harmony, youth policy etc. These events attracted academics, media persons, bureaucrats, activists and development workers from all over the country and abroad and yielded a rich corpus of literature on the subjects concerned.

- The RGNIYD has carved out a niche for itself in the field of youth training. In consonance with its mandate it has trained thousands of NSS and NYK volunteers and functionaries and NGO personnel. Training is imparted on a wide range of themes that include life skills, personality development, career counselling, transforming tribal youth as social animators, gender issues, climate change, volunteerism, globalization, employment guarantee scheme, citizenship education, sustainable development, youth in Panchayati Raj, employability, governance, social harmony and national unity. The training manuals reflect the professional expertise of the RGNIYD. The programmes are held at RGNIYD campus as well as in different parts of the country.
- In its quest for innovation the RGNIYD has developed Youth Development Index (YDI) in collaboration with the Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai. The index is the result of a well organized scholarly pursuit and diligent collation and critical analysis of facts related to youth. It stands as a unique model in youth work and an effective tool in measuring the progress of youth. It also contributes immensely to policy formulation and analysis.
- The RGNIYD has added a feather to its cap by playing host to the participants of the '22nd Ship for World Youth Programme'. Under this programme youth from several countries visited the institute and interacted with its students and staff. Among these youth, two were the students of the RGNIYD.

- The RGNIYD in accordance with its mandate organized 'Inter-state youth exchange and home stay' programmes which helped foster spirit of national integration among the youth and enabled them to understand different cultures.
- The institute promptly responds to the questions under RTI Act. The information sought regarding: i. affiliation to RGNIYD, ii. RGNIYD's Organisational Structure, iii. Recruitment Rules of RGNIYD have been sent on time.
- The institute received Rs. 9,45,00,000 crores as Grant-in-Aid from Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports, GOI during the period under report out of which an amount of Rs. 9,47,68,796 crores was spent.
- The Adolescent Health and Development Project (AHDP) received 2.65 crores from 01.10.2007 to 31.12.2009 and the entire amount has been spent.
- The RGNIYD organised 250 programmes including AHDP programmes during the period under report.
- In order to promote the use of Hindi in the official work, RGNIYD during the year under report continued to promote the implementation of official language. The notifications, resolutions, Annual Reports, Newsletters were translated to Hindi and the Annual Report 2008-09 was presented to the Parliamentary Committee.

The RGNIYD's undiluted commitment to the cause of youth empowerment and persistent engagement with capacity building had enabled it to script a success story in the area of youth development.

2. Training and other Activities

A. Training

Since RGNIYD's inception in 1993, training has been its forte. In consonance with its mandate to train the youth, the institute has made training as its high priority area. Keeping the ever changing and increasing training needs of the youth the RGNIYD has designed need specific, theme specific and culture specific training programmes for all categories of youth. During 2009 – 2010 the institute has organised 35 training programmes. The learner centred training is imparted through scientifically tested methods. The 13 training manuals reflect meticulous work and theoretical rigour. The RGNIYD constantly updates its manuals and seeks to improve upon its training methodology and content. The institute's geographical reach has left no state untouched and no wonder a good number of youth organisations all over India interact with it.

1. Pilot Testing of Module on 'Environment and Sustainable Development'

04-08 May 2009 – RGNIYD

The RGNIYD in collaboration with the Centre for Environment Education, Ahmedabad prepared a Facilitators' Manual on "Environment Education for Sustainable Development" for youth functionaries. It was pilot tested on 24 NSS Programme Officers of colleges and universities across the country at the RGNIYD.

2. Finalisation of Draft of Training Manual on Youth Health

28-29 May 2009 – RGNIYD

With the objective of promoting healthy lifestyles among youth, the RGNIYD undertook the task of preparing a training manual on youth health in which 28 subject experts, consultants, social workers, medical practitioners, academicians, representatives from NYKS and NSS and youth volunteers participated.

3. Pilot Test of Training Manual on Human Rights and Social Harmony

01--03 June 2009 – RGNIYD

The RGNIYD prepared a training manual on human rights and social harmony for youth functionaries in order to disseminate knowledge on human rights and to foster social harmony among the youth. The manual was pilot tested at RGNIYD with 26 NSS officers of various colleges and universities in Tamil Nadu, contributing their ideas and suggestions.

4. Training of Trainers Programme on Youth Leadership and Personality Development

15-17 June 2009 – Mussorie, Uttarakhand

The objective of the training programme was to develop a National Resource Team (NRT) on Youth Leadership and Personality Development to strengthen the youth development activities of the country. Functionaries of NSS Training and Orientation Centres (TOC) and Training, Orientation and Research Centres (TORC) participated in the programme.

The participants were briefed about the importance of UN Day for volunteerism. They were also lectured on how the spirit of volunteerism can strengthen the civil society.

6. Human Rights Day

10 December 2009 – RGNIYD

On 10th December 1948 the United Nations General Assembly adopted the 'UN Declaration of Human Rights'. Since knowledge in human rights is a prerequisite for advocacy as well as understanding civil society the RGNIYD observes human rights day by imparting training and knowledge on human rights to youth. The programme was attended by 275 NSS volunteers. The faculty members of RGNIYD explained the importance of human rights in civil society and gave details about fundamental rights enshrined in the constitution and global perspective on human rights. The youth were also sensitized about their role in protecting human rights.

7. Celebration of National Youth Day

12 January 2010 – RGNIYD

12 January 2010 – Kanyakumari, Tamil Nadu

The National Youth Day is observed to remember the invaluable services rendered by Swami Vivekananda and his untiring efforts in bringing about a spiritual awakening in the youth.

The National Youth Day was celebrated simultaneously at two places. The programme at the RGNIYD was attended by 250 elderly persons from old age homes of Sriperumbudur and Chennai, 200 NSS volunteers and 100 Teen Club members. The objective of the programme was to sensitise the youth on the needs and concerns of the aged. A pledge was administered to the youth to empathise with the needs of the elderly and develop responsible behaviour towards them for building healthy family relationships. The national level seminar at Kanyakumari was inaugurated by the former Vice-Chancellor of Sri Sankaracharya Sanskrit University, Kerala, Dr. K. S. Radhakrishnan. The event was marked by speeches on India's cultural heritage, unity in diversity and the contributions of Swami Vivekananda, Mahatma Gandhi, Netaji, Bhagat Singh, Udhham Singh and poet Subramanya Bharthi.

8. Observance of Martyr's Day and Seminar on Secularism

30 January 2010 – Thanjavur, Tamil Nadu

The tragic assassination of Mahatma Gandhi 62 years ago is a grim reminder of the nation's responsibility of preserving secularism and shunning violence of any kind. Hence on this occasion a seminar on secularism was organised at Periyar Maniammai University. It was inaugurated by Wing Commander Biman Saha, Station Commander 47 Wing, Airforce Station, Thanjavur. Dr. N. Ramachandran, Vice Chancellor of Periyar Maniammai University, Thanjavur delivered the presidential address. The themes for the seminar included invaluable sacrifices by martyrs, secularism and mass vigilance and youth perspectives in secularism. Three hundred forty youth participated in the seminar.

9. Observance of Commonwealth Day

08 March 2010 – RGNIYD

The programme highlighted importance of the Commonwealth day and role of science and technology in the society. The day signifies the importance of the continuing relationship between the former British colonies. The Queen's message was read out and the society's responsibility in using science and technology for sustainable development was emphasized.

G. Academic Programmes

In addition to training, the RGNIYD started five postgraduate courses with focus on youth, thus heralding a new chapter in the area of youth studies and youth work in India. These course are i) Life Skills Education ii) Governance and Public Policy iii) Career Counselling iv) Youth Studies and Extension v) Gender Studies. These programmes serve as tools in understanding youth issues and help youth hone their skills, augment their knowledge and develop positive attitude that contribute to youth empowerment. The syllabi was designed keeping the employability of the students in mind. The RGNIYD sported a multi-cultural look by drawing students from twenty states. During 2009-2010 69 students- 47 males and 22 females- from eighteen states and one union territory joined five postgraduate courses. The 44 postgraduate research project reports reflecting deep understanding of social issues, executed by the students exemplify the fact that they are trained in advanced research methodology.

1. Board of Studies Meeting

12 June 2009 – RGNIYD

The second Board of Studies meeting modified the syllabi of all the MA Programmes. The Board of Studies of M.A. Gender Studies programme was held on 12 August 2009 in which the members scrutinized the syllabus and included more number of units in each paper.

The University Grants Commission Expert Committee under the chairmanship of Prof. M. Madaiah visited RGNIYD to review the progress of its academic endeavours. Each school made detailed presentations about the syllabus, faculty position, research work etc. Suggestions that emerged out of the discussions helped refine the curriculum and working out strategies of imparting academic inputs.

The visit of the review committee was a significant event as it reviewed the functioning of the RGNIYD. The committee consisted of Prof. Madaiah, former Vice-Chancellor of Mysore University, Dr. X. Rose Mary, Manonmaniam Sundarnar University, Tirunelveli, Prof. P. G. Jogdand, University of Mumbai, Prof. H. C. Srivastava, International Institute of Population Studies, Mumbai, Prof. R. B. S. Verma, Lucknow University, Dr. Vidya Rao, Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai and Prof. Subash Chandra. The committee members saw the entire institute. They were appraised of the present programmes as well as future plans. They were impressed by the progress of the institute.

Some of the suggestions of the committee include expanding the infrastructural facilities, getting more books and journals on youth development, widening the scope of community radio programmes, diversifying its activities and organizing extension activities in urban slums. The committee also visited Kannanthangal, the adopted village of RGNIYD and interacted with the Panchayat members and school students.

H. Adolescent Health and Development Project

I. Training activities

Under the Adolescent Health and Development Project (AHDP) being implemented by the RGNIYD

and supported by the UNFPA, a host of adolescent related programmes are implemented in different parts of the country. All the programmes invariably aim at capacity building of the adolescents as well as master trainers. Since its launch in 2007 the AHDP has been consistently striving to promote the life skills of adolescents and create awareness about education and career. The project so far organised 30 programmes in which 2870 teachers and Headmasters/ Headmistresses of Government and Government aided schools were trained in life skills and career guidance. In what can be called a unique interface between media and education the establishment of 'Ilanthalir' Community Radio Station at RGNIYD facilitated the inclusion of thousands of adolescents into the mainstream by way of participating in its programmes. Its broadcasts reach people within 20 Kms radius. Career melas are organised in all parts of the country to promote awareness about choosing careers.

1. Orientation Programme of National Adolescent Resource Team (NART)

12. Head Masters' Orientation Programme

One-day orientation programmes for the 3319 Head Masters from eight states namely Assam, Mizoram, Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Chattisgarh, Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu were organized at different places from June to December 2009. These programmes were meant for training the head masters of the respective schools to implement Adolescent Health and Development Project.

13. Training of Teachers on Career Guidance and Life Skills

A series of training programmes were organized for teachers of Government and Government aided schools in twenty eight districts of eight states viz., Gujarat, Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Chattisgarh, Assam, Mizoram and Tamil Nadu in order to equip them with necessary expertise to render career guidance services to the adolescents. These programmes were organized in collaboration with the NSS Regional Centres.

14. Career Melas

The RGNIYD organized career melas in thirty two districts of eight states in association with organizations working in the area of career counselling such as Young Buzz India private limited, Mumbai and Donbosco Vazhikatti, Tamil Nadu. Twelve career melas were organized in each of the states viz., Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh, Mizoram and Chattisgarh, while in Tamil Nadu alone 42 programmes were organized. Through these career melas 1,04,278 students obtained career related information and guidance.

The activities carried out in each of the career mela include screening a documentary film pertaining to career guidance, talks on career paths, dissemination of information about career options after passing different classes and courses, exhibition of career panels containing career options in the fields of science, law, hospitality, work from home, engineering, information technology, off beat careers, media and communication, government services and career options for fresh undergraduates.

15. Parents Teachers Association Meeting - November 2009

A series of meetings across Tamil Nadu sought to sensitize the parents of adolescents and teen club members on the activities of RGNIYD, Adolescent Health Development Project and the importance of forming Teen Clubs and their benefits. The aim of organizing such meetings was to get the cooperation of the teachers and parents to support the activities of teen's club.

16. Vocational Training Programme for Inmates of Observation Home

The programme was intended to equip the children living in special homes with some skills and knowledge to enable them to life with dignity. Since most of these children were in conflict with law, the Social Defence Department of Government of Tamil Nadu requested the RGNIYD to train them. The training commenced in November and concluded in December 2009. The vocational training programmes were conducted at three homes of Social Defence viz., Observation Home - Chennai, Observation home - Tiruchy and Special home - Chengalpet. The training which benefited 150 children included mushroom cultivation, landscaping and gardening, artificial flower and bouquet making and block and fabric painting.

17. Vocational Training Programme for Adolescents at Kannanthangal Village

The RGNIYD had adopted Kannanthangal village in which it has organized several developmental programmes in the village. It had organized a vocational training programme for adolescents at Kannanthangal village in Kancheepuram District. The two-month training commenced on 15 October 2009 through which, 40 youth were provided computer education, the training programme concluded on 30 December 2009.

II. 'ILANTHALIR' - Community Radio Station

The RGNIYD has established its Community Radio Station named 'Ilanthalir' at its campus with a frequency of 107.20 MHz. It targets both school going and out of school adolescents in the age group of 10 to 19 years, youth in the 15 to 35 years age group, communities and SHGs of Gram Panchayats in and around Sriperumbudur. 'Ilanthalir' broadcasts programmes on career guidance, health, life skills, tourism, Indian/Tamil heritage, Indian constitution, social harmony, and other environmental and social issues. Its broadcasts also include programmes on spoken english and self development to help the young listeners hone their communication skills.

Ilanthalir is aired from a completely digital, tape less studio to rural areas in and around Sriperumbudur block in Kanchipuram District and some parts of Thiruvallur district with a coverage area of approximately 18 - 20 kms radius. The programmes are broadcast in Tamil to reach larger audiences from 3.30 pm to 5.30 pm.

The objective of the community radio is to widen its reach and strengthen its bond with the community through programmes that fulfill educational, developmental and social needs. It strives to bring out the dormant talents of the adolescents and people in rural areas of Sriperumbudur block and some parts of Thiruvallur District. The content and format of these programmes are kept very informal to enable the listeners to relate themselves to the realities.

Meeting for Programme Development of Community Radio Station

12 October 2009 – RGNIYD

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the development of programmes in Community Radio with head masters and teachers from 49 schools of Sriperumbudur and Thiruvallur block. It was felt that the transmission of the programmes from 12.30 pm to 5.30 pm would affect the regular classes of the children. Hence it was proposed to go for weekly broadcasts for the advantage of all sections including students. Some of the suggestions given by participants for the development of programmes were to include programmes on child rights, human rights, spoken English, science quiz programmes, literary programmes, examination tips etc.

III. Observance of the National / International Days with Special Reference to Adolescent Health

World Population Day

11 July 2009 – RGNIYD

World Population Day was inspired by the public interest in 'Five Billion Day' on July 11, 1987, approximately the date on which the world's population reached five billion people. The day is observed to raise awareness about population growth and collate data for development. It was observed at the RGNIYD to create awareness about population issues among youth. The programme sought to sensitize the youth and adolescents regarding population growth and its effects.

International Youth Day

12 August 2009 – RGNIYD

The International Youth Day is celebrated to create awareness about the endangered demographic. The RGNIYD observed it with a view to shorten the gap between the elderly people and the younger generation. Two hundred fifty elderly people and more than 300 youth who include school students, teen club members and NSS volunteers participated in the programme. Shri. K.V.S. Gopalakrishnan IPS (Retd), Former Chief of Intelligence Bureau, Government of India and Shri. Maruthamuthu, former Vice – Chancellor, Madurai Kamarajar University were the chief guests at the programme.

Children's Day Celebration

14 November 2009 – RGNIYD

Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru's birthday is an appropriate occasion to be celebrated by the adolescents, hence a programme was organised in which members of 60 teens clubs from schools in Sriperumbudur and Thiruvallur blocks participated. The theme of the programme was the role of adolescents in nation building.

3. Research and Extension Projects

A. Research

Research is the foremost instrument to upgrade knowledge of a particular discipline or subject and unfold new dimensions of it. It is a constant and repetitive pursuit that relies on methodical and objective inquiry and analysis. The RGNIYD sponsors research studies/projects to encourage multi-disciplinary research and enrich the knowledge base of social sciences and accrue benefit from the findings of the studies. The results of the studies are documented and used to develop theoretical framework which would expectedly contribute to further research on youth and policy formulation as well.

Study on Youth and Media (Commenced in April 2009)

Since media plays a vital role in the socialization process of youth and exerts considerable influence on their life choices, ideas and priorities there is a visible growing corpus of literature on it. The research on media especially the electronic media has explored new vistas of scientific enquiry which in turn has contributed to extending the contours of media studies. The present study is qualitative and seeks to delineate the media's perspective on youth as well as youths' perspective on media. The rationale of the study is to obtain clear understanding of the state of media and its impact.

The study employed the method of content analysis in studying the supplement of Hindustan Times, three television channels i.e. Music Television (MTV) an entertainment channel, Aaj Tak a Hindi news channel and "Colours": entertainment channel. Questionnaires were administered to elicit the opinion of youth on the content of these channels.

The findings reveal that a majority of the respondents feel that the media projects glamour more than any other issue and it also creates hype about certain issues that do not deserve serious attention. The respondents also felt that the media content creates conflicts in their minds.

A Study on Behavioural Attitude of the Youth towards the Elderly (Commenced in February 2009)

The problems of elderly have attracted great attention in the wake of rise in life expectancy. Geriatric studies are increasingly characterised by analysis of problems of the elderly which has resulted in informed research in the area. The objective of the research project was to study the attitude of youth towards the elderly. The final report is awaited.

Knowledge Attitude and Practice of Youth in regard to Panchayati Raj System

The study was undertaken by the RGNIYD to help develop a road map for imparting training to youth on Panchayati Raj system and its operational aspects. The study was conducted in collaboration with Kerala Institute of Local Administration, Centre for Research in Rural and Industrial Development (CRRID), DHAN Foundation and Village Knowledge Centre Tripura and consultants from Sikkim, Orissa and West Bengal.

Youth in Conflict: A Study of Unguided Youth in North Coastal Andhra Pradesh (March 2008 to June 2010)

The objectives of the study are to examine the socio-demographic and economic conditions of the youth who are involved in conflict, to analyse their family dynamics and peer group networks and assess the effectiveness of the correctional measures for youth who are convicted/remanded. The study also suggested measures for preventing the youth from participating in unlawful activities.

B. Ongoing Research Projects of RGNIYD

A Comparative Study on the 'Life Skill needs of Adolescents of Kerala and Tamil Nadu'

The study intends to understand the levels of awareness of adolescents of two states about life skills. It seeks to make a comparison between the understanding of adolescents of Tamil Nadu and that of Kerala in regard to life skills.

Problems and Needs of Adolescents – A Field Study of Kerala

The study attempts to inquire into the dynamics of social relationships among the adolescent boys and girls in Kerala with respect to the pattern of socialization, interaction with peers and attitude and actual behaviour.

A Study of Existing Patterns of Curriculum vs. their Employability

The objectives of the study are to compare between choice based credit system and previous curriculum of Undergraduate courses in regard to employability and to study employability potential of Arts & Science curricula.

Panchatantra Tales – A tool in Life Skills Education

The objectives of the study are to identify various Panchatantra tales which could be used as tools for internalising the ten core life skills by children and assess their level of understanding of concepts of life skills. The study shall also outline the steps for compilation of Panchatantra tales with interpretations from life skills perspective.

Conflict Management Systems adopted by School going and Non-school going youth of Jammu & Kashmir

The project would examine different dimensions of conflict experienced by the youth in Jammu & Kashmir, to study the styles of conflict management preferred by them and compare their conflict management styles on the basis of age, gender and education.

Assessing Work force Skill requirement in Local Labour Market and Employability Needs of Youth

The objectives of the project are to assess the employability needs of youth in Sriperumbudur block, to critically review the vocational and skill development programmes offered by various technical and non-technical institutions and to find out the gaps between existing vocational/skill development services offered and workforce skills requirements in the local labour markets (Sriperumbudur Block).

C. Extension Projects

Traditional Employability Skill Certification Project

It is found that youth who have skills in traditional occupations or otherwise are not fully employed if their skills are not certified, keeping this in view the RGNIYD in consultation with the National Council for Vocational Training (NCVT) had identified 419 modular employable skills (MES) and subsequently formulated syllabus accordingly. The components of the project are to identify traditional skills at village level and identify the skills for which syllabus has been developed and facilitating certification. The project was carried out in collaboration with Directorate General of Employment and Training, Ministry of Labour, Government of India.

Survey

RGNIYD had conducted a pilot study in Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh and Punjab to identify traditional skills at village level. Subsequently the project was implemented in two districts in each of the states. A total of 3568 youth out of 3846 passed the skill test and got the certificates.

4. Documentation and Dissemination

The RGNIYD documents its activities and programmes in a scientific and attractive format. The publications of the institute are precise and reflect finesse and meticulous care.

Preparation of Annual Report 2008-09

The task of preparing and printing of the Annual Report for 2008-09 was carried out after taking the approval from the Executive Council of the RGNIYD in the 23rd Executive Council meeting.

Short Films

Two short films were produced with an aim to create interest in the youth about Indian art and culture. The films would make the youth appreciate art and stimulate them to innovate in the field of art. The films are on Indian painting and Indian sculpture and Architecture.

Auditor's Report

RAJIV GANDHI NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF YOUTH DEVELOPMENT, SRIPERUMBUDUR

We have audited the attached Balance Sheet of the RAJIV GANDHI NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF YOUTH DEVELOPMENT, Bheemanthangal, Sriperumbudur – 602 105, as at 31st March 2010, and also the Income and Expenditure Account for the year ended on that date annexed thereto. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Institute's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We have conducted the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in India. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

- 1) We report that,
 - a) We have obtained all the information and explanations which, to the best of our knowledge and belief, were necessary for the purpose of our audit;
 - b) In our opinion, proper books of accounts, as required by law, have been kept by the Institute so far as appears from our examination of these books. However the Internal controls have to be strengthened in view of inadequacies pointed out in the Management Report.
 - c) The Balance Sheet referred to in this report is in agreement with the books of account.
- 2) In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the said accounts read with the notes and the management report, give the information in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India,
 - a) In the case of the Balance Sheet, of the state of the affairs of the Institute as at 31st March 2010.
 - (b) In the case of the Income and Expenditure account, the excess of expenditure over income for the year ended on that date.

Notes forming a part of the Statutory Audit Report for the year 2009 – 2010

1. The accounts have been prepared based on the Cash System of Accounting. The institute has given a declaration to the effect that no personal expenditure has been charged to the Income and Expenditure Account and the bifurcation of expenditure accounting has been done by the institute as declared by them
2. The dispute with M/s Saravana Constructions Private Ltd., the building Contractor, has been decided in favour of the contractor by the Arbitrator. An appeal against this order was filed by the Institute before the Honorable High Court of Madras. The appeal was dismissed by the High Court. The Institute has filed further appeal to the Bench of Madras High Court. The outcome is awaited.
