

STORIES AND EXPERIENCES OF LIVING WITH DALITS OF RURAL GUJARAT

FRAGMENTS OF DALIT LIVES

— ARIF RASHEED —

A provocative page-turner of monumental proportions. A must possession for those interested in Indian politics and administration.

Senior Editor, Khaleej Times

Any quest for global wellbeing needs to start by listening to the perspectives of the marginalized. This book dares to be radically focused on Dalit narratives. It has the power to change minds and open hearts. May we all be inspired to develop the same insight, courage and openness.

~ Anna Rosengren
Founder, GNH Sweden

These are must-read stories to make a nation of our generation a Casteless Society. "The Era of Casteless Society" will not start unless we read such stories, internalise them deeply, open our doors, open our hearts, souls, and minds as human beings, and eliminate caste from society.

~ Deelip Mhaske
President, UN-ECOSOC affiliated NGO,

I know this book as author's personal experience to very minute details. I'm sure these experiences and learnings are unique and need to be understood in their context. I wish this work all the best.

Stories and Experiences of Living with Dalits of Rural Gujarat

Published by: FOUNDATION FOR EVIDENCE-BASED DEVELOPMENT IN INDIA

ISBN: 9788194798675

This book reports the author's enthralling journey through the heartlands of Gujarat state, where he lived with Dalits, to understand and report their socio-political and economic status. The author, who is a dedicated social worker, has compiled his experiences, case studies, observations, and emotions which came out as an outstanding and fascinating compilation to indulge with. This book is important for socially responsible people, stakeholders, and policymakers too.
